

Practice leader – Commercial Management Consulting Morrison Low & Associates, Auckland

Are you a highly experienced management consultant looking for the right environment to build your long term career?

You've got consulting all sussed! You have your networks, your deep areas of expertise, you know how to lead your team, you know how to make the whole business hang together so that clients keep coming back and you consistently deliver attractive returns to the bottom line? All that's missing is the right firm to deliver it in and to earn your just rewards.

Morrison Low & Associates is a well established Australasian management consultancy firm with a primary focus on delivering operational excellence in Local Government. We have also serviced a select commercial client base for the last 10 years. The time has now come to strategically grow our commercial practice.

We are looking for a well rounded senior consultant to take a leading role in our drive into the commercial and private sector markets of New Zealand. You will be based in Auckland and work with one of our most experienced consultants to grow the business and to quickly take on the role as Commercial Consulting practice leader.

To fit the role you will have 5 to 15 years experience in consulting and most likely have built your key skills in an international consultancy firm. You will have strong expertise in advising commercial clients; have been successful at business development and in delivering quality solutions. Most importantly you really enjoy the networking, selling and hands-on consulting and you do this best with a high degree of self management.

Morrison Low offers a consulting firm that is highly focussed on delivering innovative client solutions that work. We are entrepreneurial, collegiate and professional and we offer directorships and shareholding to those with the talent and dedication to establish a long term career with us.

If it's time for you to stamp your own mark on the consulting market this might be just the exact role you've been looking for.
